

Following the Fridenstines

Greetings in this beautiful month of October!!

As we mentioned in our previous update, we are currently on a short furlough reporting back to supporting churches, and a few new churches, out West. We have been blessed so far to travel from Southern California up to Canada and back, visiting many churches along the way in the Northwest. We are traveling in a truck and RV trailer that the Lord blessed us with in a very special way. Thanks to lots of prayer and God using some folks with a heart for ministry, we were able to obtain a wonderful rig for just a fraction of the value. We are excited about the stability that this provides for our family as we travel. It also keeps the traveling expenses lower for us and the churches we visit by not having to eat out or stay in hotels.

We have been greatly encouraged by the growth and strength of our supporting churches that we have visited on this furlough. What a blessing to see what God is doing with HIS church around the world.

We are pleased to report that the work in El Salvador is marching forward even in our absence.

I went back to El Salvador for a week at about the middle of our ten week furlough. The Sunday that I was there, I baptized four that had recently been saved during discipleship with different people in the church. Also, the folks in the church carried out all of the planning and preparation for a big Kid's Day. It was indeed a BIG DAY with 215 in attendance with 13 visitors. One hundred eleven of those were adults. What a blessing to see God's work carried out in God's way, dependent on HIM, not on us.

We are enjoying some extra family time these last few weeks and are looking forward to finishing up our furlough in Southern California with a missions conference in our sending church, Lancaster Baptist Church. We are planning on flying back home to El Salvador on October 30.

Thank you for your faithful prayers and support. God is good!
