June 5, 2017 – At the end of the service yesterday, a young college graduate named Phenyo received Christ as His Saviour. He along with many others will be baptized this coming Lord's day on BAPTISM SUNDAY. As I write this I am watching out my office door as a large tanker truck fills the pool where several precious believers will express their identification with our Lord Jesus in baptism. The pool was in disrepair and we were struggling for a place to baptize. Our landlord, who has had some difficult financial setbacks lately, stepped up and allowed us to use this month's rent to have the pool repairs made. All last week the men worked hard to get it done. As the clean sparkling water splashed into the pool tears of joy filled my eyes as I thought of the great grace of God that has been experienced in the lives of these precious souls. Next week, after the morning service, we will gather at our home for lunch and the baptism service. We are preparing to feed 100 people. We have encouraged those being baptized to invite lost family members and friends and many are being prayed for this week. We are asking God to greatly use this service to speak the hearts of those who still need to be saved. My heart is full to overflowing and so is our plate getting ready this week. Please pray all will go well this week as there is much to do.

Two weeks ago we were at the University of Botswana distributing New Testaments and I met a professor from the mathematics department. He asked if we could sit together and allow me to answer questions he had about the scriptures. We sat for almost two hours and he has been at church two Sundays in a row now. I'm confident that he'll be saved soon. Please pray for "Prof" a polite way of addressing a professor.

I have begun preaching / teaching on how to have a Godly marriage and a Christian home. It is much needed here and already we are seeing the great hunger that folks have for it. Of course Satan will fight in every way to hinder that which will help so many. Please pray with us that God's Word will prevail in the lives of the people. As always – it takes a commitment to faithfulness to grow and there are always those who linger in the valley of decision.

Cindy and I are blessed beyond measure and our health is good. We love all of you and appreciate your faithfulness to pray and give. We have an expensive month ahead of us with a lot of "extras" but as always God overwhelmingly blessed and our support was beyond normal this month. I mean what I say. I really believe we have some of the greatest churches in the world standing with us and not a day goes by that I do not thank the Lord for it. Heaven will be so sweet as we all gather around the throne together and sing of God's amazing grace. Hallelujah!!! What a day that will be!!!

Together in the harvest,

Mike and Cindy Haley
